

Ivar Hottentot

I officially started in the Travel Industry in 1997 as the International Sales Manager for Eagle Canyon Airlines in Las Vegas. I had the opportunity to promote Grand Canyon Sightseeing Tours with a network of General Sales Agencies around the world. Eagle Canyon Airlines later became Scenic Airlines where I worked until 2004.

In November of 2004, I joined the Aladdin Casino Resort as the International Leisure Sales Manager and helped introduce and promote what became the first Planet Hollywood Resort & Casino. I continued to build and grow our International Tour and Travel partner network.

In January of 2010, after the Planet Hollywood Resort was acquired by Caesars Entertainment, I made the transition to the International Receptive Tour operator arena and joined GTA to become the Product Development Manager overseeing Las Vegas, San Francisco and the LA County hotel contracting.

I held similar roles with Tourico Holidays and Hotelbeds through August of 2018.

I joined Meeting Point North America in September of 2018 and now manage the product development and hotel contracting with hotel partners on the West Coast from Alaska to San Diego as well as the state of Nevada.
